WILY RUSSIAN GENERALS HAVE TRAPPED AUSTRIAN ARMIES BY SHREWD MOVE BEFORE CRACOW

Hesitation on the Part of Teutonic Ally Turns Tide.

GERMANS RENEW ONSLAUGHT

Hostilities Fighting is Resumed Along the Rawka River, but Muscovites Assert They Have Repulsed Attacks With Vigor. Russians to Enter War.

By Associated Press.

GENEVA, via Paris, Jan. 9.—The Austrians have been caught in a trap skillfully set by Generals Brusilov and Ivanoff, according to a despatch from a Hungarian source received here without first passing through the hands of the Austrian censor.

In conformity with the Russian plan the Austrians, in one direction advancing a short distance to the Nettivets, or found themselves stopped by tanks in their advance. At the same time the Russians attacking Cracow from the southward made a dash to the rear of the Austrian army in a most unexpected manner.

With the Russian army occupying the most important positions of the country from the line of Dukla past the Austrian army's advance no further toward Warsaw for the moment across the mountains are now and strongly held by the Russians.

On the other hand, the Austrians are obliged to defend Cracow and because of the Russian maneuver can only meet the Russians along the line of defense under the most unfavorable conditions.

The Austrian commander being unable to decide whether the Russians intended to occupy Hungary or Czernowitz, or both, lost five or six days and it is now too late to move out to carry out the movement of troops necessary to oppose the Russian maneuvers.

GERMANS FIGHTING RESUMED ALONG LINE IN POLAND

By Associated Press.

ETTERBACH, Jan. 9.—An official communiqué issued out by the general staff tonight says:

"In the left bank of the Vistula front at the village of Smolnik, Metzne and Mogilev the fighting has assumed a character more and more desperate. The Germans notwithstanding the great losses they have sustained continue obstinate attacks at different points."

In many places the enemy succeeded in occupying positions previously won by the Germans, but the Germans made a counter attack, followed immediately by hot and courageous combat, but the Germans failed to hold their hold.

Thus in the region of Metzne and Mogilev on January 5th we drove back the enemy who pushed our advance to trenches, capturing seven officers and more than 100 men.

In Lwow we occupied on January 6th Lippendorf near the Hutscher, a border after an advance and battle. During the night days our forces during this fighting covered about 10 kilometers and finally crossed the main frontier of the frontier between Lwow and Hutscher. During these operations we captured more than 1,000 Austrians and about 2000 pieces of war.

On other parts of our front there is nothing worthy of note.

On the Black Sea on January 6th our torpedo boats discovered a Turkish steamer followed by a torpedo boat out on the north coast of Asia Minor. Seeing themselves pursued the Turks turned west to the Black Sea port. The cruiser escaped.

BASSEL, Switzerland, via Paris, Jan. 9.—German married life is described by Abbot, an Baszel as "weighing heavily upon their countrymen in Alsace." He adds: "The spirit of the times is such that the husbands are compelled to live harmoniously because of their spouses' mutual sympathies."

The Abbot says that the Germans in Alsace are failing to find but a small portion leaving Baszel to attend the birthday of Kaiser Wilhelm on January 27. On the other hand, soldiers are preparing for the significant day of December 1st, the anniversary of the battle of the Marne.

PITTSBURG COAL
OPERATORS AGAIN
PLAN RATE FIGHT

Claim Kentucky Fields are Given Advantage to Lukes.

ALLEGED MUCH DISCRIMINATION

Penalized in Favor of Greensburg for Eastern Business and Are Given No Road Advantage to Any Point Not Opposed to the Railroad Interests.

Notwithstanding the governmental requiring authorities have conceded to the railroads operating in official classification territory the right to advance their freight carrying charges 5 per cent the rate contestants is not ended. The coal interests of the Pittsburgh district, for instance, have a grievance and are preparing to fight it, and more trouble in consequence is in store for the carriers.

In this instance, however, it is not so much a question of rates per se, as of equality. Pittsburgh shippers claim that they have been discriminated against to their distinct disadvantage and in turn to the disadvantage of the community, since other minor districts are profiting thereby at the expense of the latter.

In a word, the Pittsburgh coal interests are protesting not so much against the rate they are charged by the railroads as against the inequalities to which they are subjected. During, among other instances, that of the 9-cent rate that obtains from the Kentucky fields, Lukes' coal roads, situated 10 miles apart, are making a 10-cent charge, at with less than one cent to the same port for a 15-mile haul or only 12 cents less than for the 30-mile longer haul. Moreover, the operators in the fields east of Pittsburgh are recording the entry to the Western markets at the Pittsburgh rate, but per contra, the Pittsburgh operators if they would ship their output to the eastern markets are not given the benefit of the rate that obtains from Greensburg, for example.

Summarizing the position of the Pittsburgh district coal operators, we find that their representatives are, at least, most unfortunate and what with the various difficulties and disabilities they are being around shownly as between the upper end the northern millstone. And it is upon such showing that they base their present case.

The proponents in the present movement, however, disavow hostility to the railroads, but on the other hand insist frankly that the rates are indeed too high, the position they take being one of the most prominent operators of the Pittsburgh district frankly expressing the opinion that the 5 per cent concession was totally inadequate to the railroads' needs and that the 10 cent should have been in excess of a per cent, but with them it is a struggle for existence and under these circumstances a readjustment of freight rates must be applied, and as would be them to compete on equal terms in the markets of the country with the operators of other districts, then they must perform certain services related to the home market in which event the interest of all will be served.

As things are the Pittsburgh operators by their representations, the plan is to secure a rate which will continue much lower than that of the time past, and since some of the time past has been a period of great depression in the markets of all kinds in this market, therefore, they desire the railroads must help them with a little, either by recording their concessions voluntarily, or by being compelled by the regulating authorities to do so.

NEW ICE BOX

O. H. Shroy installs an up-to-date refrigerating plant.

Opener H. Shroy, the North Pittsburg street butcher, is going to install the most modern and up-to-date meat market in the city. The arrangement consists of a refrigerating unit 8x12 feet. Antwerp oak, with all the latest improvements, such as a track, rail with the aid of rollers, meat can be taken in and out of the box without troubling. Each department is separated from the other with galvanized iron partitions.

A large cold room, where meat is stored, with a wood and polished refrigerator, marble base and top, the front is plate glass and on the back four cases of frosted plate which keeps the meat cool and sanitary. Among the will will be a case with cuts for meat and shelves for canned goods.

In the basement will be installed a four-ton York Ice Machine which is operated by an electric motor, which will supply the refrigeration and connect with the hottest days of summer. The meat will be kept and supplied to the Greenwood Cafeteria machine by the Greenwood Construction Co., Pittsburg. Oliver N. Shroy, 309 North Pittsburg Street, Adv.

Map Showing French Drive Toward The Rhine; Will They Reach It?

The new French offensive started at Orsay in Alsace (A on the map) driving the invading force to a point along twenty miles from the Rhine. The immediate object is Colmar, the capital of Upper Alsace. The French are still threatening Steinbach (B) in force. The Germans announce that the French have been repulsed at Uffholtz, which is two miles north of Sondernach. Paris is silent on this reported check; but, on the other hand, Berlin ignores the movement started from Orsay.

In this instance, however, it is not so much a question of rates per se, as of equality. Pittsburgh shippers claim that they have been discriminated against to their distinct disadvantage and in turn to the disadvantage of the community, since other minor districts are profiting thereby at the expense of the latter.

DOCTORS MAKING GENEROUS OFFER FOR SHORT TIME

Inter-State Doctors Make
Free Offer Until January 1st.

TO PROVE CURES RAPIDLY

The Only Charge to Any Patient Is Simply Bare Cost of Medicine Used
Offer Expires Soon.

Free consultation, free examination and all treatments free until we are entirely well. Such is the generous offer made by the Inter-State Doctors to all patients who will seek treatment before January 1st. The only charge that will be made is for the bare cost of medicine and its distribution, which must be paid for in cash. To every poor, deserving patient the medicine will be furnished free also. The object of the Inter-State Doctors in making this grand free offer is to secure a large number of supposedly incurable cases quickly in order to demonstrate the tremendous curative powers of this wonderful new scientific system of medicine so far as the Inter-State Doctors are concerned. The Inter-State Doctors are specialists in their field, two or two of the most difficult cases from each location in order to show what can be done by a scientific treatment even in the worst forms of disease.

The treatment used by the Inter-State Doctors is non-surgical. They never use the knife, never mutilate the body which God has in His own Image. Only the best and purest of drugs and chemicals are used by these specialists, their motto being that every sick person is entitled to the best medicine that can be found in nature regardless of the cost.

The expensive and costly diagnostic and the extreme care used in preparing pure drugs and preparing them specifically for the individual requirements of each patient makes the Inter-State Doctors' treatment more expensive than ordinary treatments, yet owing to the large number of cases treated it is possible to place the price of treatment within the reach of all.

Consultation and examination free to all but only curable cases will be accepted for treatment. If your case is incurable you will be told so and not one penny of your money will be accepted. However, many cases that are pronounced incurable under old methods can be quickly cured by this wonderful new treatment of the Inter-State Doctors.
